Odds & Ends

Odds & Ends is a series of wall lights designed in three basic shapes: Teardrop, Rainbow and Aquafresh—so named because it resembles a dab of toothpaste. The series, which is illuminated by LEDs, can be installed in multiples to create large installations of varying designs.

Designed in 2011

Designed by Jason Miller

Jason Miller Studio was founded in 2001. Jason's designs often draw on everyday aspects of contemporary American culture to create objects that are sometimes as much conceptual art as they are contemporary design. He has exhibited internationally, including solo shows in Tokyo, Milan, Istanbul, New York, Miami, Los Angeles and Toronto. The Cooper-Hewitt, National Design Museum included Jason in 2006's "Design Life Now, The National Design Triennial." Jason has been featured in numerous publications including ELLE Decor, World of Interiors, and Wallpaper* magazine, which named him one of the "Best Breakthrough Designers" in 2007. He was named "Designer of the Year" by the Brooklyn Museum in 2010. His work is a part of the permanent collection of the Museum of Arts and Design, the Corning Museum of Glass and the Brooklyn Museum. He lives and works in Brooklyn, NY.
